

It's a long way from the mean streets of
New York.

And yet, it's quite well-known there.

It might surprise you to learn parts of America know more about Walla Walla than Northwesterners do. Like readers of The New York Times which called us a “worldly community... famous for world-class merlot and cabernet sauvignon.” Visit wallawalla.org or call 1-877-WWVISIT to learn about our 100+ wineries and other surprising facts.

Walla Walla
Surprise, surprise.
